REPORT OF THE FIFTH HORTICULTURAL AND POULTRY SHOW 1935

INTRODUCTION AND OBJECT

It is with immense pleasure, that I submit this year's report of the Hyderabad Horticulture and Poultry Show. Started in 1931, the Show entered upon its fifth year of existence, this year.

It is a matter of great privilege and honour that Major-General Walashan Prince Nawab Azam Jah Bahadur very graciously consented to become Patron-in-Chief of the Show. We feel proud of this honour and regard it as a most happy augury for the two very important agricultural industries of the State, viz., Horticulture and Poultry Raising.

The management was in the hands of an Executive Committee. The list of Patrons and members of the Committee is given in Appendix I. Mr. Nizamuddin Hyder, the Director of Agriculture, was the Chief Controller and Adviser. The members of his staff helped me in the execution of the work and looked after the necessary arrangements. They were assisted on the Purdah Day by a number of Lady Volunteers. A list of workers and volunteers is given in Appendix II. The Show used to be held during the I'd-ul-Fitr holidays till the last year. This year as the I'd days fell in the 2nd week of January, and as it was considered too early for the flowers, the Show was held in the 4th week and lasted for three days. Its full programme is given in Appendix III. The Show as usual was financed by the Industrial Trust Fund.

The object of the Show is to encourage fruit, vegetable and flower growing and poultry raising in the State. The number of exhibits has been steadily increasing year by year and their quality also shows a marked improvement. Some of the exhibits were of rare and superior quality and in many of the cases the judges could not help giving special prizes.

2. SHOW GROUNDS

As on former occasions the Show was held in the Public Gardens, Hyderabad. The lay-out consisted of 3 sections, Horticultural Court, Poultry Court and Recreation Grounds. The plan attached herewith shows their situation.

Horticultural Court.—The Court consisted of two sections—one rectangular piece of ground with flat roofed sheds 12' wide running all round and two double spanned pendals along the central line interposed with three umbrella shaped structures. The other section, the island, a more or less a circular piece of ground, was covered by a circular pendal.

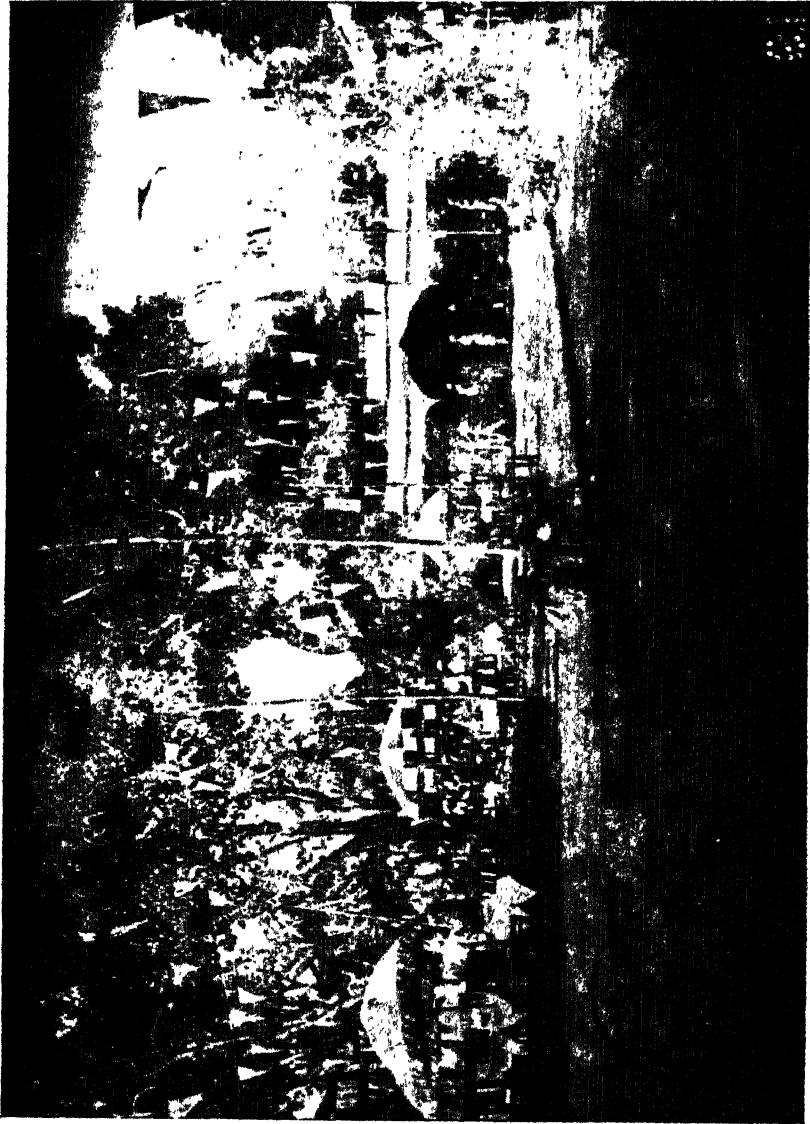

Poultry Court.—It was observed in the previous years that the shape of this court was not quite suitable to the purpose. The court used to be irregular in shape which led to some serious difficulties in the arrangement of the pens. A portion of the area which was previously left unused owing to its being moist and marshy was reclaimed this year and the court was made regular in shape.

Recreation Grounds.—These grounds were situated between the Horticultural and Poultry courts. They consisted of an oval shaped lawn on which beach umbrellas and chairs were artistically arranged. The band stand was close by and the Military Band was in attendance.

The address hall was erected near the lawn. Though it was made of bamboo, tatties and paper, it appeared so realistic that many took it for a permanent structure.

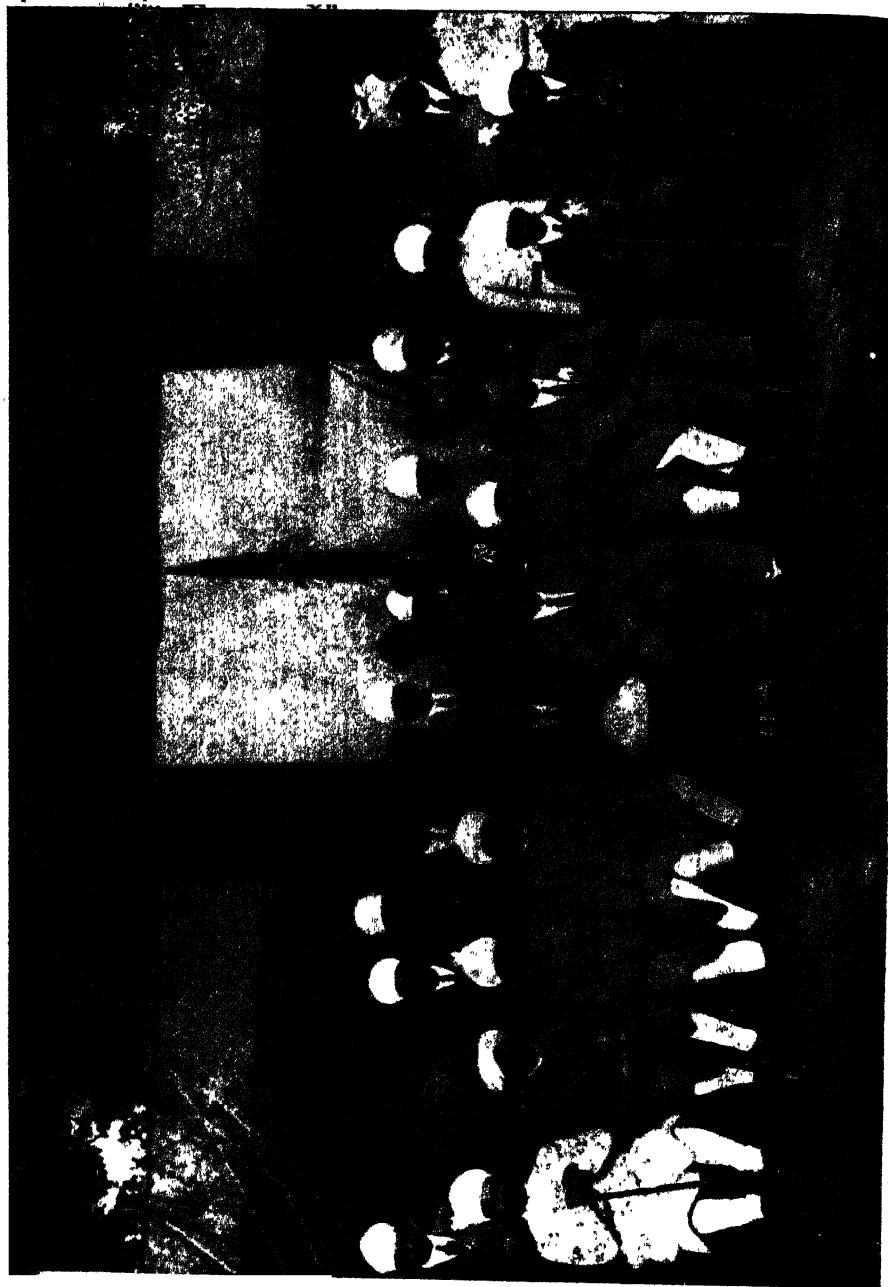

The Show Office was located at a Central spot in the Show ground. The Enquiry and Ticket Offices were placed outside at the entrance. Both European and Indian restaurants and fruit stalls were given places in the Show ground.

The Show ground was decorated with the help of the multi-coloured buntings, lights, coloured poles and furniture. Besides, a number of tatties painted with pictures of wild life afforded a great deal of interest to the visitors.

In the Horticultural court, a "Tree of Plenty" was erected. It had all kinds of fruit on it.

There is no exaggeration in saying that the whole Show ground presented an animated appearance. Especially during the nights, it was nothing but a kaleidoscope magnified.

3. PUBLICITY

It was realized that the success of the Show chiefly depends on and is usually gauged by the large attendance and greater number of exhibits. Hence, no pains were spared in giving the matter the required publicity and creating a keen interest in the public both to attend the Show and to send in their exhibits. For this purpose announcements were made in the local papers, posters were put up in centres of activity and Railway Stations, handbills were distributed both in the City and in the muffussils and printed copies of the prospectus in large numbers were issued. On the eve of the Show, handbills containing the programme were distributed. Lantern slides announcing the event were shown in the local picture houses. The press played an important part in publishing the notification of the Show and the Broadcasting Station broadcasted the news regularly every evening.

4. OPENING CEREMONY

The opening ceremony was held on the 23rd January 1935 in the Inauguration Pavilion. Walashan Major-General Prince Nawab Azam Jah Bahadur, who was pleased to be the Patron-in-Chief, performed the inaugural ceremony. A few minutes before the arrival of the Prince, Sahibzada Nawab Basalat Jah Bahadur and Maharajah Sir Kishen Pershad Bahadur Yamin-us-Saltanat arrived. Walashan Major-General Prince Nawab Azam Jah Bahadur arrived at 4-15 p.m., and was received by Lt.-Col. Sir Richard H. Chenevix-Trench, Nawab Rais Jung Bahadur, Mr. Nizamuddin Hyder and other Committee Members at the entrance and was led to the dias. Nawab Rais Jung Bahadur read an address wherein he thanked Walashan the Prince for graciously consenting to be the Patron-in-Chief and Princess Durr-e-Shehwar for graciously consenting to distribute the prizes. He also thanked Maharajah Sir Kishen Pershad Bahadur for his continued patronage.

In reply, Walashan the Prince expressed his pleasure at the proceedings as he himself was keenly interested in Horticulture and Poultry. Walashan the Prince on behalf of his august father His Exalted Highness congratulated the Executive Committee on the success of its labours and declared the Show open. The speeches will be found in Appendix IV.

After the opening ceremony a group photo was taken and Walashan the Prince in the company of the nobles present went round the Horticultural and Poultry Court. He evinced very keen interest in the exhibits of both the sections.

5. PRIZE DISTRIBUTION

Princess Durr-e-Shehwar Hazrata Durdana Begum was requested to give away the prizes, and the request was most graciously granted. The ceremony was held on Thursday the 24th. The Princess arrived at about 4-25 p.m., and was received by Sir Richard H. Chenevix-Trench, Nawab Rais Jung Bahadur and Mr. Nizamuddin Hyder and conducted to a royal seat on the platform. The Princess very kindly gave away the prizes to the winners in the various classes in the Horticultural and Poultry sections. Mrs. P. W. O'Brien won a big and beautiful cup awarded by Maharajah Sir Kishen Pershad Bahadur for being the most regular and all round winner in the Horticultural section. Mr. Amjad Ali received the 1st prize for the best exhibits in Poultry. He also won the much coveted cup presented by Walashan Prince Azam Jah Bahadur for the best all round exhibits in the Show. These prizes were in the form of cups and medals which were kindly donated by nobles and other people interested in Horticulture and Poultry. Cash prizes were given later on. Appendix V gives a detailed list of the prize winners.

At the conclusion of the prize distribution Princess Durre-e-Shehwar Huzrata Durdana Begum, accompanied by Lt.-Col. Sir Richard Chenevix-Trench and Nawab Rais Jung Bahadur and Mr. Nizamuddin Hyder inspected the Horticultural and Poultry Courts, and took her departure at 5-15 p.m.

6. JUDGING

No efforts were spared to secure expert judges. This year two judges were invited from outside the Dominions. Mr. De Velois from Katpadi for poultry and Mr. Krumbiegel of Mysore for horticulture. They were pleased to accept our invitation.

There was a general appreciation of the judging amongst the exhibitors, as well as the visitors. The judging was done ably and successfully leaving no cause for complaint of any sort. A list of judges is given in Appendix VI.

7. DONORS

As in the previous year an appeal was made to all the nobles of Hyderabad for donations. The result of the appeal was that cups and cheques came pouring in. Special mention should be made of donations received from the Major-General Prince Walashan. He not only donated a sum of Rs. 100 but also presented 3 beautiful cups, one in the name of Sahibzada Colonel Nawab Mukerram Jah Bahadur, one in the name of Princess Durr-e-Shehwar Huzrata Durdana Begum and one in his own name. The names of donors are in Appendix VII.

8. NOVELTY

A drama entitled "Reformer Wins" was enacted. A large gathering attended it. It was written by Mr. Hyder Hasan in Urdu, depicting the activities of the Agricultural Department. The synopsis of the drama is given in Appendix VIII.

9. LECTURES

After the inaugural ceremony interesting lectures in Urdu were delivered on Horticulture and Poultry. Mr. Mir Rasul Sultan, Horticulturist to Government, spoke at length about the potentialities of Horticulture and steps that are being adopted by the Agricultural Department to improve them.

Mr. Amjad Ali spoke on the subject of the various breeds of Poultry that thrive well in the climate of Hyderabad, their feeds and feeding and some of the common diseases that affect them and their cure.

On the second day of the Show Dr. Mahajan of the Veterinary Department, delivered a lecture on the various diseases affecting Poultry. He also suggested the preventive and curative measures, when they break out.

10. BOOKING OFFICE

Although the Show could not be held during the I'd-ul-Fitr holidays when a great many people from the districts come to Hyderabad, there was an unexpectedly large gathering every day. From morning till night the Show ground used to be crowded with visitors. Rates of admission were the same as last year. Please see Appendix IX.

11. STUDENT'S DAY

The morning of the last day of the Show was reserved for the students from schools and colleges. The entrance for this was free and they visited the Show in such a large number that the crowd became practically uncontrollable. This shows the interest the students have begun to take in these industries. Some of the students were actually seen taking notes.

12. PURDAH DAY

The afternoon of the last day of the Show (25th January 1935) was reserved for the purdah ladies. In spite of the fact that the rates of admission were rather high, large numbers of them came pouring in. The crowd was so much that it was not possible for the ladies to leave the ground till 2 o'clock after midnight.

13. HORTICULTURAL COURT

The court was represented by fourteen sections. Class XIII for practical competition was again divided into two sub-classes. One for the students and amateur gardeners and the other for the professional malis.

The number of exhibits went over 1,500. It is clear that with the lapse of years there is sure to be great expansion and improvement. Although still mainly confined to the City and the immediate suburbs, there was this year a comparatively large number of exhibits from further afield. Parsoda, Vijapur, Gulberga, Raichur, Parbhani, Warangal and Sangareddi were represented in the Show. It is a matter for great satisfaction that several Government Institutes also entered the list this year. Residency Gardens, Central Jail, Public Gardens, a few schools, besides the Horticultural Stations of the Department of Agriculture, took part.

In the Foliage section adequate staging was provided for the proper arrangement and display of the plants. In the Fruit and Vegetable sections Class and Group labels were hung up in the proper places and baskets with labels showing the entry numbers attached to them were provided. In the class for Cut flowers no effort was spared to provide for arrangement, as nearly perfect as practicable, for the exhibition of each entry separately and in a manner enabling it to be displayed to the best advantage. Special vases for the exhibition of Canna stalks and individual flowers; small tin vases for Carnations, and Sweet Peas, special wooden desks for roses and collections of cultivated flowers, were made available. In every case arrangements were made for the flower stalks to stand in camphorated water. Moss also was provided where necessary and kept moist, with the object of creating as moist an atmosphere as was desirable to keep the flowers in as fresh a state as possible, during the trying three days of the Show.

CLASS I. (Foliage Plants).—The total number of exhibits received in this class was 72. Entries in this section, especially in Crotons and Coleuses were so large that they took up all space that was usually given to the Annuals and the Perennials in the past years, besides its own. Competition was fairly keen in the Croton and decidedly very keen in the group for Coleuses. Mrs. Chinoy and Mr. Roshan Ali, winners in the Croton group and Mrs. Pim and Mr. Zahiruddin winners in the Coleus group, were the most prominent exhibitors in this class.

CLASS II. (Annual and Perennial Flowers in Pots).—Not less than 144 exhibits were received in this class. For want of sufficient space to accommodate these the Perennials had to be taken over to the island and arranged all round the central fountain and lawn. Exhibits in the annuals section were not at their best because it was too early in the season for them. Still competition in several groups was fairly keen. Mrs. Hasan Latif, Nawab Kazim Yar Jung Bahadur and Mrs. Marcoolyn were the leading exhibitors in this class. The varieties of Buginvillaea exhibited by Mrs. Marcoolyn, the Petunias from Nawab Kazim Yar Jung Bahadur, the Nymphaeas shown by Mr. Chaturvedi; the Pansies from Mrs. Pim, were very well spoken of by the judges.

CLASS III. (Cut-flowers).—This class proved as usual the most attractive section of the court. In all 228 exhibits were received. All groups were fairly well represented and competition was very keen. In an atmosphere of loveliness, created by the presence of a collection of fresh flowers of all colours, the judges must have had a difficult time in picking out the best. Competition in the Canna groups, Roses, collections of cultivated flowers, hand-bouquets, vases and baskets was exceedingly keen. The number of competitors in each of the above exceeded 15. The Cannas exhibited by Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Marcoolyn, the collection of flowers by Miss I. E. Gamlen, and Lady Hydari, the table decoration by Mrs. Pim, and the Roses from Mr. Ghouse Mohiuddin were greatly appreciated.

CLASS IV. (Ornamental Plants from Government and Municipal Institutions).—In this class, 4 exhibits were received. The Public Gardens, so far, were all alone in the field in this section. This year the Residency Gardens were represented and helped to put life into this class also. The Public Gardens however fell on the defensive, came out successfully and again won the prize.

CLASS V. (Imported Ornamental Plants).—The only and really good collection in this class was put up by the Empire Nursery, and the Proprietor Mr. Munna Ram was awarded the 1st prize and a cup. It is hoped that this example will be followed by others and this section will become more popular.

CLASS VI. (Fruits).—In this class 300 exhibits were received. In the Orange, Sour lime, Guava, Banana, Fig, Papaya, Sapota groups entries were unusually large in number and the competition was necessarily very keen. The best oranges and also the best sapotas were from the district of Aurangabad. Hyderabad won the 1st prize for grapes exhibited by Mrs. Ainuddin. Gulberga also exhibited some very good grapes. The principal exhibitors in this class were Mr. Amir Ali, Mr. Shaukat Ali, Mr. Metha and Mrs. O'Brien.

CLASS VII. (Collection of Fruits from Government and Municipal Institutions).—Only five exhibits were received in this class. The competition was not keen and therefore no prize was awarded in this class.

CLASS VIII. (Imported Fruits).—It is a matter for great satisfaction that this year a few dealers of fruits could be induced to exhibit imported fruits at the Show. There were four entries and the collections exhibited were very fine indeed. Mr. Shivram Peshawari and Mr. Diwan Chand got the 1st and the 2nd prizes respectively.

CLASS IX. (Vegetables).—This was decidedly the most popular section. Entries were 478 in number and almost all the groups were well represented. In the Tomato, Brinjal and Beans groups entries got up to thirty. The most prominent exhibitors were Miss Suraya Begum, Mr. Rehman Shariff, Reddy Gardens, Mr. Ethurajulu, Mr. Zahiruddin and Mr. Balu Singh Katchi.

CLASS X. (Collection of Vegetables from Government and Municipal Institutions).—Several Institutions took part in this class and competition was fairly keen. The total number of exhibits received was 10 and the prize was won by the exhibits put up by the Residency Gardens.

CLASS XI. (Imported Vegetables).—This class was open to dealers only. There was only one entry in this class and no prize was awarded.

CLASS XII. (Floral Parade).—Two decorated motor cars entered the competition and helped to lend charm and beauty to the grounds. The 1st prize was won by Mr. Basit Ali.

CLASS XIII. (Practical Competition).—The practical competition class was this year split up into two sections to secure healthy competition among candidates. One for amateurs and students and another for malis. The winners of both the classes were awarded an equal number of prizes. The mali class was awarded Rs. 42 that had been provided for, in the schedule of prizes, while the students and amateurs class was awarded the same amount so kindly donated by Nawab Salar Jung Bahadur. The judges Mr. Krumbiegel, Mr. Ranga Reddy and Mr. Munnaswamy took considerable pains and gave to each individual competitor all possible facilities for the display of his skill and knowledge. The competitors had a very exacting time of it during the two hours and more, that the test lasted. Mr. Sharifuddin a student of the Himayatsagar Mali Class acquitted himself with great credit, winning three 1st prizes and one 2nd prize, the prize for the highest aggregate in the whole class and a medal. In the mali class Piriah mali of the Government Observatory was the leading prize winner with Hanu-maiya of the Osmania University Building Project, a close second.

14. POULTRY COURT.

The court was represented by nineteen sections. In view of the increased interest among the public in the science of poultry keeping a new class (Class XIX) pertaining to poultry appliances and literature was added this year in order to bring to their notice the material that is available in this connection.

Keeping in view the increasing interest that the public have begun to take in the Poultry Industry, adequate accommodation was provided for a large number of birds, this year. The total number of birds received in this section was 673 out of which 571 were exhibited while the remaining 102 had to be rejected as they were found to be infected with contagious diseases.

The exhibits were arranged in decorated stalls erected for the purpose. The Show pens were put up at a good height from the ground to be easily seen by the spectators and judges. Breeds of distinct kinds were accommodated separately with the class and group labels on each of the cages.

CLASS I. (White Leghorn).—In this class altogether 62 birds were exhibited of which the birds shown by the Reddy Gardens and exhibited by Mr. Amjad Ali and Mr. Turab Ali Khan were very fine. It is a matter for pleasure to state that bonafide cultivators also have begun to take a great deal of interest and the birds of this breed exhibited by Messrs. Yamagala Ramaiah and Jabbar Mian were of very fine quality.

CLASS II. (Black Minorca).—Although this class was poorly represented, the competition was fairly keen. Twenty birds were exhibited of which the birds shown by Mr. Amjad Ali and Miss L. Bailey were greatly appreciated.

CLASS III. (Orpington).—There was however, a remarkable increase in the Orpington breed this year. There were as many as 70 birds exhibited in this class, most of them being Australorps of black, white and buff colour. Some of the birds were of excellent type. The judges must have had a difficult time to pick out the best bird. Out of these the birds exhibited by Mr. Mohd. Ali and Mr. Moazam Husain, were decidedly of a higher quality.

CLASS IV. (Rhode Island Reds).—The class in which the largest number of birds were exhibited was the one of Rhode Island Reds. The number of birds exhibited was 101 and competition was exceedingly keen. This indicates that this breed has become very popular in H.E.H. the Nizam's Dominions. Birds shown by Miss L. Bailey and Mr. Amjad Ali were of the best type. It is gratifying to note that this breed has become very popular among the cultivating class also. Some of the birds exhibited by the bona fide cultivators were fine specimens and of these the birds entered by Messrs. Yaseen and Neerudu Maliah were the best.

CLASS V. (All other Light Breeds).—In this class 56 birds were exhibited out of which the birds shown by Mr. Shaikh Chand and Mr. Turab Ali deserve mention.

CLASS VI. (All other Heavy Breeds).—The number of birds exhibited in this class was 42. The birds entered by Mr. Amjad Ali and Mr. Turab Ali were of the best type.

CLASS VII. (Aseel).—Another important class was that of the Aseel birds. No less than 60 fine specimens of Hyderabad Aseels were exhibited. The competition was very keen and the judges had to be given sufficient time to choose the best bird. The most conspicuous among them were those shown by Mr. Abu Said and Mohd. Bin Audh.

CLASS VIII AND IX. (Best Light and Heavy Breed Hen or Pullet).—Among the hens and pullets of the light and heavy breeds the best specimen were exhibited by the Reddy Gardens and by Mr. Amjad Ali.

CLASS X AND XI.—Among the trios of the light and heavy breeds the trios shown by Mr. Rajaya were the best.

CLASS XII. (Imported Cock or Hen).—In this class the number of birds exhibited was only 4 and the competition was not so keen. The birds shown by Mr. Amjad Ali were however the best among all that were exhibited.

CLASS XIII. (Turkey).—Turkeys being birds of heavy breeds special arrangement was made for their housing. In all 15 birds were exhibited out of which some were nice utility birds. The birds shown by Mr. Chas. Speechly and Mr. S. Jamaluddin were much appreciated by the judges.

CLASS XIV. (Guinea Fowls).—Although this class was poorly represented this year yet some of the birds were fine and the competition was fairly keen. Only 18 birds were exhibited in this class out of which the birds shown by Mr. Aquil Khan were the best in the Show.

CLASS XV. (Ducks).—Twenty-nine ducks were exhibited in this class. The birds shown by Mr. Mir Hoosain Ali and Mr. Kuthbullah Beg were the best.

CLASS XVI. (Geese).—Geese were also accommodated by the side of the Turkeys and Ducks. Plenty of space was given to each of the birds. Thirteen birds were exhibited in this class out of which those shown by Mr. Edward Bright were the best.

CLASS XVII. (Eggs).—The eggs that were exhibited were perfect in colour and shape. White eggs shown by Mr. Sacket and tinted eggs exhibited by the Reddy Gardens were of the best type.

CLASS XVIII. (Exhibits from Government and Municipal Institutions).—In the class reserved for exhibits from Government and Municipal Institutes, two institutions competed this year, namely, the Himayatsagar Poultry Farm and the Rural Development Centre,

Fine breeds were entered by both the Institutions and the birds being of the best type, the competition was very keen. Birds shown by the Himayat-sagar Poultry Farm were, however, adjudged to be the better and won the prize.

In one open area in the Poultry Court open runs were constructed to demonstrate the up-to-date scientific system of Poultry rearing. The runs were equipped with improved Poultry houses, automatic grain scattering feeders, the water fountains and dust pits, and fine specimens of birds were kept in them for demonstration purposes. These runs served their purpose well. The people appreciated them very much.

In another open space in the poultry court exhibits of educational interest were beautifully arranged in a circular pendal. Among them worth mentioning are the Model Poultry Houses, Feeding troughs, Water fountains, Poultry feeds and Medicines, Incubators, Poultry literature and Charts. This section was attractive and instructive and was much appreciated by the people.

15. FINANCE

The total amount sanctioned by the Industrial Fund this year was Rs. 10,000. Efforts were made to be within the sanctioned provision, and the total expenditure amounted to Rs. 9,999-8-11. The money realized on account of the sale of tickets, hire of stalls and the sale of cloth was Rs. 8,907-6-3. It is gratifying to note that a little less than half of the sanctioned amount has been realized towards the income of the Show. For statement please refer Appendix X.

16. CONCLUSION.

The Show was a great success owing to the help and assistance of the following gentlemen to whom I give my most sincere thanks for their valuable services.

- (1) Nawab Rahmat Yar Jung Bahadur, City Police Commissioner.
- (2) Nawab Hasan Nawaz Jung Bahadur, Political Secretary.

- (3) Mr. Meher Ali Fazil, Superintending Engineer, City Improvement Board.
- (4) Mr. Syed Jamaluddin, Director of Public Gardens.
- (5) Mr. Mir. Mahboob Ali, Director of Broadcasting Station.
- (6) Brig. Qader Beg, Military Department.
- (7) Mr. Bala Pershad, Superintendent, Telephone Department.
- (8) Mr. N. N. Inugunti, Chemist, Narayanguda Chemical Laboratory.

I also thank all the judges for the pains they took in coming over and for the pains they took in judging impartially. My special thanks are due to the lady volunteers who took charge of the arrangements on the purdah day. Mrs. K. Jabbar, Mrs. Cornelius and Mrs. R. K. Pillai were the heads. I am under a great debt of gratitude to them.

I am extremely grateful and thankful to the members of the Executive Committee and to the President, Nawab Rais Jung Bahadur for giving me every possible facility to execute the work of the Show and to Mr. Nizamuddin Hyder, Director of Agriculture for his invaluable advice and personal guidance. Lastly I give my thanks to all the sectional and subordinate officers of the Agricultural Department for their whole-hearted co-operation and indefatigable services.

Of all the honorary workers I have to mention the name of Mr. Mohd. Hyder Hasan. He worked in the capacity of Assistant General Secretary and worked with indefatigable devotion and zeal for days on end for which I really thank him. He was awarded a beautiful silver cup for the valuable services rendered by him. I congratulate him.

APPENDIX IV

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

MAJOR-GENERAL WALASHAN PRINCE NAWAB AZAM JAH BDR.

It is a very great privilege and honour for me to thank you, Sir, on behalf of the Executive Committee of the Hyderabad Horticultural and Poultry Show, for your great kindness in graciously consenting to open this our Fifth Show. We have also been greatly honoured by your becoming our Patron-in-Chief and the Princess Durr-e-Shehwar Hazrata Durdana Begum very kindly consenting to distribute the prizes. We feel proud of this honour, and we regard it as a very happy augury for the two important industries of the State, viz., Horticulture and Poultry keeping.

On this occasion I would like to express our deep obligation to Raja Rajayan Maharaja Sir Kishen Pershad Yamin-us-Saltanat Bahadur, for his continuous Patronship of this Show, year after year, ever since it was started four years ago. The keen interest which he has been taking, has always been of the greatest encouragement to us.

I would like, Sir on this occasion to make a special mention of the name of Mr. B. A. Collins, late Director-General and Secretary of Commerce and Industries. It was at his initiative that this Show was started, and its present prosperous condition is based on the solid foundation laid by him.

Sir, you have been doing us the honour of visiting this Show in past years, and as you know, it has two different sections, viz., (1) Horticulture, including fruits, flowers and vegetables and (2) Poultry, including fowls, guinea-fowls, ducks, geese and turkeys. In the first year of the Show in 1931, the number of exhibits in the horticultural section was only 349. This year the number of entries is 1,568. In the poultry section the number of exhibits in the first year was only 96. This year the entries amount to 637. As regards the quality of the exhibits, there is a marked general improvement in all the classes in both sections. The popularity of the Show can also be gauged from the number of cups and medals offered by numerous donors. Here I have to express our gratefulness to you, Sir, for the four cups which you, Princess, and Nawab Mukarram Jah Bahadur have so graciously presented. Raja Rajayan Maharaja Sir Kishen Pershad Yamin-us-Saltanat Bahadur has very kindly been presenting a cup every year since the Show was started. Time does not permit my mentioning the names of all the donors, but I wish to thank them all for the handsome contributions they had made.

Sir, the main object of this Show is to develop the horticultural and poultry industries in the State. Besides organising this Show, the Agricultural Department has a permanent horticultural section and poultry farms at Himayatsagar and Patancheru. The horticultural section is carrying out experiments at the various farms with a view to improve horticulture in the State and is giving technical advice to owners of gardens. It is supplying trained Malis to the public from its horticultural classes, and is distributing seeds of improved varieties of fruits, etc., for which there is a considerable demand, both inside and outside the State. As a result of the experiments in progress there, the Himayatsagar Poultry Farm is now in a position to advise the public with regard to the pure foreign breeds of fowls most suitable for breeding purposes. The Patancheru Poultry Farm has been working to improve poultry keeping in the villages. The fowls exhibited by cultivators in this Show are a result of that work. It is, thus, evident that both the Horticultural and Poultry Industries have been firmly established and hold out encouraging prospects of future development in the State.

Before I close, I should like to express my deep gratitude to Mr. Nizamuddin Hyder, the Director of Agriculture, and his officers of the Agricultural Department for the excellent organisation of the Show. I wish also to make a special mention of the name of Mr. Abdul Majid, General Secretary, to whose efforts the success of the present Show is due. I also take the opportunity of thanking the Public Garden authorities for the great help they have given and have been giving every year.

I now request you Prince Walashan Nawab Azam Jah Bahadur to kindly declare the Show open.

RAIS JUNG,

PRESIDENT,

Executive Committee,

Hyderabad Horticultural & Poultry Show.

REPLY OF PATRON-IN-CHIEF.

Rais Jung Bahadur,

I was delighted to accept your invitation to attend the 5th Horticultural and Poultry Show, for as you know I take a keen interest in Horticultural development and Poultry keeping in the State.

You must feel very gratified at the great increase, this year, in the number of entries. This proves that the Show meets a definite public demand; but it could not have been achieved without much hard and devoted work by yourself and your Committee and on behalf of my August Father, His Exalted Highness, I congratulate you very sincerely on the success of your labours.

I have now much pleasure in opening the 5th Hyderabad Horticultural and Poultry Show.

APPENDIX VIII
SYNOPSIS
THE DRAMA "REFORMER WINS."
• PART I.

- Scene I.* Raj (the hero) is one of the candidates for an interview with the Director for the post of a Fieldman. Raj leaves disappointed at not being selected for the post.
- Scene II.* Raj's parents are also disappointed at Raj's failure in securing a job. Raj decides to take up farming. Raj's mother proposed his marriage with Babi, his cousin.
- Scene III.* Raj and Babi affirm their love for each other.
- Scene IV.* Marriage proposal is discussed with Babi's father and he agrees on condition that Raj should demonstrate his ability to maintain himself and his wife by successful farming. Raj is turned out of his father's house and is given 15 acres to start farming of his own.
- Scene V.* Raj meets his old friend Durga and learns of the activities of the Department of Agriculture and decides to approach the Hyderabad Farming Association for advice. Starts independent farming by modern and scientific methods.
- Scene VI.* Raj interviews the Secretary, Hyderabad Farming Association for advice. He receives encouragement and is asked to put an application for Grant-in-aid from the Farming Association.

INTERVAL.

PART II.

- Scene I.* Raj receives intimation of the sanction of his application for Grant-in-aid. Babi's father wavers regarding the marriage proposal for his daughter and finally agrees to accord his approval for the man (between Kurmiah, a wealthy landlord and Raj) who grows the best crops of the season.
- Scene II.* Kurmiah ridicules Modern Farming methods as practised by Raj.
- Scene III.* Kurmiah resents the intimacy between Raj and Babi.
- Scene IV.* Inspection of the fields by the Deputy Director of Agriculture, and village people. All agree that Raj's crops are best. Kurmiah goes out disappointed and Raj wins with his faith in modern methods.
